

Exercise 10

- Design a class called Student with properties student ID and name, student ID is uniquely for each student.
- Using hashmap to store the student information, and supports to search a student's name by inputting their student IDs.
 - If you are interested in JAVA, you can try to implement it with GUI programming.